THE UNITED STATES POLL

He's A Republican Is Chief Reason GOP Supporters Give For Voting For GOP Congressional Candidates

By Kenneth Fink, Director, Princeton Research Service

This November, the United States will hold elections for Congress (House of Representatives) in every one of the 531 Congressional Districts across the nation to decide whether the Republicans or the Democrats will have control of the House of Representatives during the 1955 and 1956.

The latest of a series of nationwide Congressional measurements shows that sentiment in the nation as a whole is very closely divided insofar as allegiance to the Democratic and Republican Parties is concerned, with the Democrats holding a thin edge over the Republicans. (Sentiment can and often does change in the period between August 1 and Election Day.)

To find out why rank and file supporters of the two major political parties want their person in a nationwide survey who expressed a preference for either political party's candidate, "Why would you vote for your Congressional candidate?" Today's report will show the reasons the nation's Republican supporters give for preferring Republican Congressional candidates.

Next Thursday's U. S. Poll will report the reasons Democratic supporters give for preferring Democratic Congressional candidates.

Analysis of the replies of all those who said they would vote for Republican Congressional candidates shows that the No. 1 reason offered by people all over the nation is that he's a Republican.

People who say they will vote for Republican Congressional candidates this November cite this reason more than three times as often as they mention anything else.

The next most frequently mentioned reasons offered by GOP supporters are that they want to back up the Eisenhower Administration; that the Democrats are in too long; that the Republicans have the better candidates; that the Democrats ought to be given more of a chance; and that the Republican Administrations in the past did a lot of damage.

That the Republicans are trying to keep us out of war; that the present Eisenhower Administration has done a good job; that the Democrats are against Senator McCarthy; that the Republicans are better government; that the Republicans give less taxes; that the Republicans are better able to get us out of the international mess; that the Democrats are too wasteful; and that the Republicans are more conservative reasons mentioned by small groups.

"Why would you vote for your Republican Congressional candidate?"

He's a Republican. "I'm a Republican. I always vote Republican."

To back up the Eisenhower Administration; want to stick by Eisenhower; want Republican Congress for Republican President; I'm sticking with deed, of the normally conservative who are close to the TVA and of those who believe in socialism.

A number of amendments were adopted to effect safeguards against either extreme. Many of us feel that there now has been directed a "happy medium" approach to this potentially great development of atomic power for peaceful, civilian use. In the interests of the entire nation, the broadest possible base is required for operation in this particular phase of atomic energy development. Government and private industry must carry on this work cooperatively, with the principal purpose to advance atomic power use for the welfare of all the people.

It was unfortunate that during the course of the debate intense personal feeling was engendered involving a very few individuals. I was among those seeking a "happy medium" and one of the reasons I never became involved in the record of the debate was that I was devoting my energies to efforts to build friendships, to avert permanent hostilities among those who must work together for the good of the nation. I am satisfied that the "peace" achieved is genuine.

New "Gator" Dorms. Housing and Home Finance Agency has advised that a loan of $600,000 has been approved for the University of Florida. This will be matched by a fund of $225,000 from the University to finance construction of three dormitories for men and three dormitories for women, each to house about 40 students, for a total of 120 men students and 120 women students. At the Gainesville campus, nearly 3,000 occupy housing facilities but there are dormitories for only 2300 and many are "temporary" housing.

PANEL DISCUSSION

Wood said, "It was one of the highlights of the entire vocational Ag. teachers conference and I have been going to conference for the past 29 years and the panel is the best part of any that I have ever attended."

He further stated that the advisory council had greatly helped the ag. program through time and effort spent on it, and that it is desirable in the Ag. department to have a council as there are approximately 160 in state and only about 30 have advisory councils.

At this meeting Lovell was named to the executive committee of the Florida Teachers of Vocational Agriculture.

The Belle Glade High School Advisory Council was organized in September 1953 for the purpose of accomplishing the most effective teaching in vocational agriculture. The nine members who were appointed have conscientiously devoted their time and effort to this end.

Members of the council are: Chairman, Frank L. Anderson, Sec. Mr. Ruth Timmons, W. J. Norris, Frank Dooley and Doug Thompson.

Frank O. Holson, school principal and Henry O. Earwood, member of Board of Public Instruction, are also members of the council have met regularly with the group for their counciling of the members of the council were in organizing the committee on a basis by stating specific goals and objectives; they also evaluated the teaching program to be taught by the instructor and recommended certain changes, as well as securing large drainage pump for the school year and arranging to have land mole drained.

board between $8,000 and $12,000 according to Mr. Earwood. The land lab is located on new road, north of Chosen. East of road 66 acres have been leased for a period of 10 years. Twenty acres is used for pasture and about 35 head of cattle are pastured on this land.

On a limited scale during the school year the land lab is profitable on farming, operating on school farms students are entitled to receive $25 per acre a plot of ground to plant which includes getting land ready for planting. He must pay for his own seed, fertilizer and cultivating and do his own harvesting, which can be done individually or through FFA. In this way they learn on a small scale what farmers do on a large scale.

The students helped to build barn, cattle corral, water trough, bought windmill, fence pasture for cattle and had cattle inoculated for black leg.

This year plan calls for planting ditch bank with St. Augustine grass in order to hold back ditch banks and prevent obnoxious grass and weeds from growing.

will be hauled for use on the Lake side.

Beginning at the Chosen bridge and to the Belle Glade bridge work will be done on the south side of the canal.

Eastward from the Belle Glade bridge to a point just west of George Royal's new home, work will be done on the north side.

From this point eastward to Six-Mile Bend work will be done on the north side of the canal, and all spoil will be used for dike building and left on the right-of-way.

All materials dug from the Hillsboro within plan City limits will be hauled away and will not be piled other than on areas provided by the Hillsboro.

There are two phases to the proposed works on the Hillsboro Canal.

Plan No. 3 calls for deepening only to a point to provide a three quarter inch runoff from lands to be served by the Hillsboro for drainage, AND sufficient capacity to provide irrigation runoff eastward.

Plan No. 4, which has not yet been activated, provides for both additional deepening and widening of the Canal to provide for some 2300 feet-second runoff, so that the pumps and about 35 head of cattle are pastured on this land.

NEWS VIEWS

One of the hottest items in the U. S. today is also one of the coolest. We speak of that balm to blistered brows... all conditioning. With heat waves jacking across the nation like a fire breathing dragon on the rampage, air conditioning units are selling. If you'll pardon the expression, like hot cakes.

In 1946, fewer than 15,000 room air conditioners were sold in the entire nation. Last year the figure jumped to a cool 900,000 and it's expected that Americans will snap up a million and a quarter units this year. The heat is really on. Air conditioning is one business where you can save your customers' colds and they love it. With blenders, cars, trucks, and trains being cooled off the time may come when summer is just a breeze. That'll be the day.

You'll enjoy lurching in air conditioned comfort at Glades Drug Store and it's so easy to pick up your cosmetic needs from the complete favorite lines of Dorothy Gray, L'Oréal, Yvonne, Elizabeth Arden, Helena Rubenstein, Tussy, Care Name and Revlon.

A fellow who was in recently said he was glad he kept the package his garden seeds came in. They're just about the right size to put his "troop" in. You can be sure of the right ingredients, in the correct proportions, when you bring your doctor's prescription to our pharmaceutical department. For accurate, dependable prescription care, come in to the "prescription store," GLADES DRUG STORE.

About 400 persons turned out at the final square dance on the park Friday night with music by the "Machine Shop Five". This dance climaxed the week's summer recreation program.

According to Jack Smith, director of Palm Beach County summer recreation program, Belle Glade was tops of 48 centers in the county, having the highest registration of any one center with more of a varied number of events and games. The session was well planned with teachers and children in cooperation and no accidents or injuries. Coach Peacock, Mrs. Genevieve Gove and Mrs. Dorothy Jones, teachers and Mrs. McDonald deserve high praise for their untiring efforts in making the program a success. The recreation center proved to be a wonderful place to keep small children to teenagers occupied with any form of game or sports they might wish to participate in.

SELF-RATING SCALE

What Is Your Driving Performance? The Florida Highway Patrol has cooked up another little safety test for drivers, one that you can score yourself on. But, it is like taking a hand of solitaire - you can cheat. Yet, isn't it sort of that way in traffic, isn't it like the judge if you're a good driver your score will be from 80 to 100. If your score is 60 or less, it means you're friends ought to learn the road and tune to Lord, "I'm Coming Home" to sing when they attend the funeral. For many drivers are numbered.

Here is the second five question test in a series of two. Score 20 points or more to be a safe driver. One's driving practices determine his record of accidents and violations. The following questions are common to our driving experiences. What is your practice in each case? How many times in the last 12 months do you follow the right practice? Rate yourself by indicating in the number of times (out of every 5) that you respond correctly.

1. Are you driving on a road with a legal speed limit of 50 MPH? Do you slow down? (Write in the parenthesis the number of times (out of every 5) that you respond correctly.)

2. Are you traveling at 40 MPH on a narrow, two-lane road. A driver behind you blows his horn indicating he wishes to pass. Do you give way to him? (Write in the parenthesis the number of times (out of every 5) that you respond correctly.)

3. The legal speed limit on a Florida highway is 60 MPH. Do you drive at a lower speed at times than during "daylight hours?" (Write in the parenthesis the number of times (out of every 5) that you respond correctly.)

4. When driving in a heavy fog, do you put on your lower or passing beam headlights? (Write in the parenthesis the number of times (out of every 5) that you respond correctly.)

5. While driving at a legal speed limit of 50 MPH, you see a highway cross ahead. Do you slow down even though you are traveling on the main highway? (Write in the parenthesis the number of times (out of every 5) that you respond correctly.)

UNEMPLOYMENT HIGHER IN GLADES THIS YEAR

Unemployment is higher in the Glades than it was one year ago according to A. M. Larimore, Manager of the local Federal Employment Service Office.

One indication of unemployment in an area is the number of persons receiving unemployment compensation. During the last week in July of this year, 110 persons claimed Unemployment Compensation payments through the Belle Glade Office. In the same week of 1953 only 83 persons filed the same type of claim.

Number of persons registered for work with the Employment Service is another indication of the active application for work in the area. At the end of the month of July 232 active applications for work were on file by residents of the Belle Glade Area. Approximately one-half of the active applications were filed by females. Clerical, domestic service, agricultural, skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled workers were represented in the occupational classification.

Members of the committee present were Mary Roy, Emmett Roberts, Ed Lively, C. A. Butler, Avery Bass and R. L. Murray.

CHURCHES: Under the direction of the Church Music Department, the church chimes are once again in operation. They have been silent for several years due to various causes. The church is proud that it can carry through its musical ministry each evening at 5:00; and also invite everyone to church on Sunday morning at 9:00 and Sunday evenings at 6:00 o'clock.

Treatment Center On Wheels New Florida Project

A fleet of mobile therapy trailers is being made to go on the road by the Florida Society for Crippled Children, the Eastern Seals organization.

Designed to provide physical and occupational therapy in areas where such services are not now available to crippled children, the trailer was purchased, equipped and staffed from 1954 Eastern Seals funds for statewide use.

First step will be the Crippled Children's Camp at Crystal Lake, which begins August 8. There is a group of severely handicapped youngsters from throughout the state will initiate use of the trailer project.

Pictured here is Miss Martha Norris, a registered PT and OT who will operate the unit, and Francis C. Walton, Daytona Beach, president of the Florida Eastern Seals society, as they make last minute preparations.

In September the non-profit therapeutic unit is tentatively scheduled to work in Marion County, and from there it will be assigned to other areas of the state. The main purpose is to train parents, under medical direction, to carry out doctor recommendations for home treatment and rehabilitation of children with crippling conditions, such as cerebral palsy, polio and injuries from car accidents.

This mobile therapy trailer is believed to be the first of its kind in the United States and, if successful, the Florida Society for Crippled Children plans to add additional units.

Naturally, the optimistic view, is the only one to hold. Under the new setup, each of the loop's nine member schools recommended from one to nine men in their areas to officiate the conference games and each school's non-conference home games this fall. None of them will handle any games of their home schools and all will be directly responsible for their actions to the athletic leaders who recommend them. It's a turn-back to the local officials organization, only on a new track.

Theoretically it will work out fine; how it will work out actual practice is yet to be seen.

Decision of the conference to adopt the new practice last month has resulted in one regrettable situation. There are quite a number of the members of the Palm Beach County Football Officials Association who are excellent gridiron officials and have worked games here with commendable efficiency. But the association has decided not to allow any of its members to join the Suncoast organization and therefore all of these good men are eliminated from Suncoast competition. Not that the new group, and there are 53 signed up, won't provide fair and equitable replacements because it will, but it's too bad that these other good men are out of the running.

The over-all net result is

Mrs. Jones told of the success in promoting the reading classes of public library as well as the school library books.

Mrs. Gore displayed a copy or more of special items made by the Arts classes with particular emphasis on creative work by the youngsters, artistic ability, and the use of inexpensive and on-hand materials.

It was pointed out that in the Palm Beach County there are 49 such centers and that Belle Glade had a registration of 352, with an average attendance of 250 per day of five hours duration.

The facilities of the City Parks, plus the cooperative work of the City with the County School Board accounts for the unusual success of the program, according to the speakers.

The school board pays the salaries of the workers and allows the use of the schools' playground equipment. However, very little of the School Board's equipment is used to supplement that of the City Park Department.

The City of Belle Glade provides a small amount of money to see that some refreshments and prizes are available for special occasions.

This season there was a pet show, a doll show, as well as a wheel-anything on wheels — with an average attendance of 250 per day of five hours duration.

Steve Holland accompanied his father to Rotary and Rosa Nash was introduced as a member of the Press.

WANTED BY THE FBI

NICK GEORGE MONTOS, with aliases, Nick Waley, "Little Nick" and others. Unlawful flight to avoid prosecution—robbery; interstate transportation of stolen property.

DESCRIPTION: Age 37, born November 8, 1916, Tampa, Fla. (not verified); height, 5 feet 5 inches; weight, 160 pounds; build, small; hair, black; eyes, blue; wears glasses occasionally; complexion, ruddy; race, white; nationality, American; occupations, laborer, painter, bookbinder; scars and marks, 6-inch scar on right side of forehead, ½-inch blue diagonal scar on right temple, scar on left eyebrow, numerous skin blemishes and marks on face.

Federal complaints were filed at Weycross, Ga., on August 23, 1951, charging Montos with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for robbery and at Chicago, Ill., on March 4, 1954, charging him with interstate transportation of stolen property.

Any person having information which may aid in locating this fugitive is requested to contact the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which appears on the first page of local telephone directories.

Nick George Montos and Lila May Nall, Federal fugitives being sought by the FBI, may be active in this area.

A complaint charging Montos with unlawful flight from Georgia to avoid prosecution for the brutal robbery and beating of two elderly persons was filed before a U. S. Commissioner at Waycross, Georgia, on August 23, 1951.

On September 8, 1952, Montos, who had been convicted previously for violation of the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, possession of burglar tools, burglary, receiving and concealing stolen property and escape, was added to the FBI's list of "Most Wanted Fugitives."

Undanted, Montos widened his flight and continued his criminal activity. On March 4, 1954, a Federal warrant was obtained for Montos at Chicago, Illinois, charging him with a violation of the Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property Statute in connection with the $150,000 robbery of an art dealer in Kenosha, Wisconsin, on February 8, 1954.

Investigation has reflected that Montos has frequently been accompanied in flight by Lila May Nall, who is charged in a Federal warrant obtained at Chicago, Illinois, on May 4, 1953, with harboring Montos, a Federal fugitive.

Montos has channeled his recent activities between the Great Lakes region and the Florida Keys, using Chicago, Illinois, as a base of operations. He has used high-powered late-model cars to traverse this area, and may have a young boxer dog with him. These fugitives may be armed and should be considered dangerous.

DAIRY FARMERS ARE JUSTIFIED IN BEING PROUD OF PROGRESS

Florida dairy farmers have a right to be proud of the progress of their industry during the past 23 years.

In reviewing the development of Florida's dairy industry, John M. Scott, chief dairy supervisor of the State Department of Agriculture, recently brought out some facts and figures that reveal the results of efforts of dairy farmers, the Agricultural Experiment Stations and Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Florida, Florida Livestock Board, and other agencies.

Mr. Scott has been in close association with the dairy industry for many years, and he has seen its progress. In 1920, for example, Florida had 71,641 dairy cows, including commercial herds and family cows, that produced 12,000,000 gallons of milk. Ten years later, Florida had 75,000 dairy cows — 3,250 more than in 1920 — that produced 28,283,944 gallons of milk — more than twice as much milk as was produced in 1920.

Between 1920 and 1940, Mr. Scott reported, there was a marked increase in dairy cattle in Florida — from 73,000 in 1920 to 110,000 in 1940 — but the increase in milk production was much greater. In 1940, Florida's cows produced 57,750,000 gallons of milk. And there was another big jump in the number of cows by 1953 — 196,736 cows in that year produced 112,041,000 gallons of milk.

Thus, Florida has greatly increased the number of its milk cows since 1920, but the increase in milk production has been much more remarkable. It simply means that while increasing the number of their cows, the dairy farmers also have improved their herds and obtained higher individual increases in milk production per cow.

Many things have contributed to this fine progress. Besides the better stock, the improvement of the fever tick was among the most significant. Use of purebred, high-producing sire and dams has been of great importance. Dairy Herd Improvement Associations have accounted for much of the progress.

Improved pastures and other feed and better feeding practices have been of great value. Improved sanitation, artificial insemination, and pest and disease control also have figured largely in the progress.

Numerous agencies have played important roles in the great progress of Florida dairy farming, but most important of all has been the attitude and efforts of the dairy farmers, the men who produce the milk.
